

BACCALAUREATE SERMON TO GRADUATING CLASS

Rev. J. Morrision Thomas, D. D., Delivers Masterly Address Sunday Afternoon at Plymouth Congregational Church

Sixty-Two Members of Senior Class Present in Caps and Gowns—Edifice Nicely Decorated for Occasion—The Sermon in Full.

Plymouth Congregational church was filled to overflowing Sunday afternoon when the baccalaureate services for the 62 members of the graduating class of the Newark high school were conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. J. Morrision Thomas, D. D. Seats were reserved through the center of the church for the young people, and just before the services began they entered the church in a body, marching down both aisles, and presented an interesting and most impressive sight in their caps and gowns, a new edict for the high school graduates and one which has found favor already with the board of education and faculty, as well as with the parents of the scholars.

Mrs. Carl Ashton presided at the organ and the program included several beautiful anthems by the church choir, and a vocal selection, "The Perfect Life," sweetly sung by Mrs. J. M. Thomas. The interior of the edifice was prettily adorned with streamers of the class colors, lavender and purple, and many vases of beautiful spring flowers occupied every available space. The sermon was a masterly effort, and Dr. Thomas was at his best.

Taking his text in Mark 13:34, "To every man his work," and John 17:4, "I have glorified thee on the earth, having accomplished the work which thou hast given me to do," the theme suggested was "Work," and Dr. Thomas spoke in part as follows:

At first blush it may seem that I might have chosen a more poetical and stirring theme than that which I now suggest. Let me say, therefore, that the highest poetry is that which exhibits the supreme characteristics of work. "For," says Paul, "we are His workmanship," or according to the Greek version of the text, "We are His poem." Let us recognize the fact that work is not prosaic, nothing that is God-given is prosaic and work is the divinest of functions. We have been taught that the mandate issued in the world's dramatic Eden to the effect that Adam should not eat bread except by the sweat of his brow, involves an irreparable curse. I confess that I prefer to think of that episode in a different light from that in which it was taught. Indeed, I incline to think of Adam's expulsion from Eden from an evolutionary standpoint, whereas in that dim past underwent a period of moral discipline, which culminated in an imperative call of duty previously unknown because impossible. Thus the day which witnessed the fall of the serpent also witnessed the ascent of the soul; and though it may sound startling by some of you, I cannot but express my conviction that Adam was a greater man outside of Eden than he ever was within those sacred precincts. He was a nobler man when he ate the fruits of his industry than he ever could have been while he subsisted on the bread of idleness. A prolonged Eden would prove a molten paradise where the best that is physical would degenerate, the best that is human would atrophy, and the best that is historic would be impossible. Not humanly realized the great commitment of Adam's fall, when the great Eden was opened the gates of amber flew open, the covenant angel delivered the baccalaureate address, and man gazed for the first time from the familiar background which should now be forever guarded by the angel of progress—upon his vast, unconquered world. Was not the divinest duty also the most immediate? What cause was there that man should submit that virgin estate, fraught with so many moral attributes in order to achieve his own supernatural destiny? Let us have done with the age-long notion that industry, or whatever sort, is ignominious and that idleness and luxury are the pristine prerogatives of those who possess the favor of God. In face of these antiquated ideas Jesus—sometimes called the "second Adam," says, that in the kingdom of humanity there is a task imposed upon every member. It is a physical and physical necessity that the human body with its millions of pores should pour some sweat now and again. "My Father," said Jesus, "worketh continually, and I work." "Work," said he to his disciples, "work, for the night is coming, when no man can work." And, according to the Revelation, when every man shall have proved his own work, the reward shall be "to every man as his work shall be." Is this not the law of relative or Years?" said an ignorant foreigner of a Civil war veteran.

"No, sir," said the soldier, sadly. "I wish he were."

"Curious looking chap, ain't he?" And then he sought to pass to other photographs.

"Let me tell you, sir," said the soldier, "that's Abraham Lincoln."

"Who is he?" said the impossible guest.

And then the old soldier's tongue waxed eloquent, and under his impressive revelations the homely features assumed to the ignorant the lineaments of a saint. He now saluted the picture which he would have indifferently ignored before the light was thrown upon it.

So it was with "work."

Members of the graduating class, this is to be the tallman of your life hereafter, even as it has been your companion during the years which have led up to this day. You are here because of a work well done. Four years ago the Board might have said to you, "to every man his work," and now you stand where you may say to the Board, "I have furnished the work thou gavest me to do."

Shall we therefore think of all future work whatsoever, as a privilege which presages power? The sense of achievement is a power. Knowledge is power, but knowledge may be like a stationary engine, whereas education is like a motor at its destination, or a locomotive at its terminal. We are living in an age of fastidiousness and fantasies. There is here much which appeals to us in many directions. Now, as you view the future ask yourselves: "What is the chief end of man?" There are many possible answers. At the stroke of midnight on a recent New Year's eve, a brilliant young woman whose name is now well known, uttered her soul's prayer in the one word "Fame." Is that the chief end of man? That poor boy who, when he had climbed an imperial throne suffered not even the Pope to place the diadem upon his brow, had prayed for Power. Think you that Napoleon achieved the chief end of his? "Seek earnestly the best gifts," said Paul. What are the best gifts? Eloquence? Knowledge? Wealth? Philanthropy? They are nothing as ends, much as means to an end. "Seekest thou great things for thyself?" says Ezekiel. "Seek them not." But if you seek them for others and not for self, seek, and ye shall find.

We desire the mad just for gold, but our voices are drowned by the din and war of a world bent upon sordid pleasure and cruel self-seeking. Is it not the duty of the student to be wise? Certainly; but it is not his chief duty. Is not the pursuit of happiness a legitimate pursuit? Decidedly; but it is not the main pursuit. Is not politics a noble science? Yes, but far nobler is the science of life.

BRITONS REPLY TO ROOSEVELT

London, June 13.—The government today made its reply to Col. Roosevelt's Guild Hall address, in which England's policy in Egypt was assailed, and Sir Eidon Gorst, British agent and consul general in Egypt, inferentially attacked Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, replying to a query in parliament, said Gorst had the government's fullest confidence.

WANT ADS ARE FOR SERVICE—TO YOU!

You'd have to lead a hermit's life to get away from the almost daily need of the want ads. For they've come to mean SERVICE—to stand for short-cuts to results in so many phases of daily life.

The want ads do more, add jobs than all of the odd-jobs men in the city—more errands than messenger boys—make more sales than all other salesmen and canvassers and agents combined, and they can serve YOU!

ABERNATHY LADS BEING LI ONIZED BY NEW YORK

New York, June 13.—Between cheering cries, Louis and Temple Abernathy rode up Broadway Saturday evening on the last stage of their two-mile journey from Oklahoma. As the two tired bronchos halted in front of the Hotel Bristol, fully two persons massed about them and joined in the final cheer.

SEARCHING FOR BODY OF MISSING PORTER CHARLTON

Como, Italy, June 13.—In the hope of finding the body of Porter Charlton, missing husband of Mrs. Mary Scott Charlton, whose murder has puzzled the police for a week, the authorities today dragged Lake Como a second time and began to dig in a group around the villa Leogrande, near Moltrasio which the Charltons occupied. Half the police believe that Charlton murdered his wife while the other half think the husband met the same fate as the woman, and that Countess Leogrande, the Russian, alone holds the key to the mystery.

MISHAP HAPPENS HAMILTON

After Making Successful Flight From New York to Philadelphia

WILL RESUME HIS TRIP

When New Propeller Arrives—Longest Continuous Flight in America.

South Amboy, N. J., June 13.—A series of mishaps prevented Hamilton from completing his round trip from New York to Philadelphia, after dropping into the meadows near here shortly after 1 o'clock, because of a dirty spark plug. He made the repair and was ready to start, but while testing his engine, the propeller borrowed this morning snapped, putting an end to his plan to finish the trip tonight. He wired at once to New York for another propeller, and will start as soon as it arrives. This may be tomorrow, possibly not until Wednesday.

Philadelphia, June 13.—Traveling at a speed greater than that of the fastest express train between the two cities, Charles K. Hamilton, in a Curtiss biplane, completed the first part of his flight from New York to Philadelphia and return at 9:28 today. He covered the distance, about 86 miles, in an hour and 50 minutes, averaging 18 miles an hour. He left Philadelphia on his return flight shortly after 11 o'clock. The aviator left Governor's Island, New York, at 7:38, getting away under the most favorable weather conditions possible. He attempted to start at 7:11, but before getting into the biplane, the propeller was shattered by a log hidden in the sand, and he was delayed until the propeller, used by Glen Curtis in his record flight from Albany to New York, was attached, under the supervision of Curtis himself. At Elizabeth, N. J., the special train of the New York Times and the Philadelphia Public Ledger, under whose auspices the flight was arranged, was waiting and dashed away on the non stop run to Philadelphia when Hamilton appeared.

Hamilton arrived above Front street and Erie avenue at 9:20, circled three times and then tore to earth several blocks away, where a large crowd had gathered to meet him. Hamilton's first request was for a cigarette. Governor Stewart was presented to the aviator.

"I want to congratulate you," said the executive, "on your remarkable flight."

"Thank you, Governor," replied Hamilton. "I guess it is time I was delivering the goods," and he handed Governor Stewart a message from Governor Hughes, of New York.

Hamilton's trip is the longest continuous cross country flight ever made in America. Glen Curtis' Albany-New York flight, 137 miles, on May 28, was made with two stops. His longest sustained flight was 75 miles, from Albany to Gill's farm.

Displayed all over the city in honor of the event.

DESPONDENT MAN ATTEMPTS TO TAKE LIFE

Oral Kuncie, a Glassblower at American Bottle Plant, Drinks Two Ounces of Chloroform.

After laying off from work for a week, and after making statements that he intended taking his life, Oral Kuncie, a glassblower living at the Hotel Dory, attempted suicide Monday morning by drinking two ounces of chloroform. He was given treatment and was taken to the Sanitarium, but the poison he took may result in his death.

Kuncie has been employed at the American Bottle plant for about three months, but the past week he had not worked, and to many people he said he was tired of life according to the statement of G. A. Kern, the night clerk at the hotel. Kuncie was more or less a mystery to the people around the hotel for to one person he said he was from Carroll, O., and another he told he was from Barnesville. To different people he said that his people lived in Fransfort and South Bend, Indiana.

He registered at the Dory last Monday night and his actions were peculiar. About 1 o'clock this morning he entered the office and after telling Clerk Kern to call him at 4:30 o'clock, he went directly to his room. No. 16, and as far as is known he exchanged no further words with any one.

At 4:30 the clerk went to his door to call him, and getting no response he opened the door and found Kuncie lying on the bed partially undressed and unconscious. The odor of chloroform filled the room, and knowing that something was wrong the clerk called help.

An investigation showed that the man had taken poison and the empty bottle was found near the window as though after drinking the contents he had thrown the bottle away.

Dr. W. H. Knapp was called and as soon as he arrived he gave the unconscious man a hypodermic emetic and he was then placed in the ambulance of Criss Bros. & Jones and hurried to the Sanitarium, where treatment was continued, but Kuncie did not regain consciousness during the morning.

In his room was found a note written on Hotel Dory paper and dated June 11. This note said his name was Oral Kuncie of Carroll, Ohio, and that if information regarding his parents was wanted it could be secured from a young lady residing in this city.

The young lady, while she admitted knowing Kuncie said that she knew very little about him and nothing at all of his people and she earnestly begged that she be left out of the matter for she said she was scarcely acquainted with the would be suicide.

Kuncie is about 30 years of age. The glassworkers are looking after him and should he die they will care for his remains.

Word of Kuncie's attempted suicide was sent to Carroll, and an effort is being made to find his people.

A telephone message to the Sanitarium this afternoon brought the information that Kuncie had regained consciousness, but he has not been questioned about his attempted suicide as he is still in a dangerous condition. The chances for his recovery are greatly improved however.

TERRIBLE CATASTROPHE IN MONTREAL

Montreal, June 13.—Thirty men, women and children were killed, 50 more were injured and the plant and buildings of the Montreal Herald destroyed by fire today. A huge water tank on the roof collapsed and fell four floors, carrying death and destruction. Broken electric wires caused a fire which caused a horrible death to the imprisoned victims.

NEW CONCORD VILLAGE MUST PAY THE BILLS

Columbus, June 13.—Attorney General Denham has ruled that the village of New Concord must pay 40 cents per day each for all Rose law violators committed to the workhouse from that village.

Another point will soon be passed as to whether the superintendent of workhouse will be instructed not to receive New Concord prisoners unless the money at the rate of forty cents a day per capita, accompanies the commitment papers.

New Concord sent five prisoners to the Zanesville workhouse for Rose law violations in that city. The costs in the case, transportation of guards and prisoners and cost of maintenance will amount to a considerable sum of money. According to the ruling of the State's Attorney General, New Concord must now pay these bills.

This will make the activity of that village in the regulation of Zanesville an unprofitable experiment.

DECLARES PEOPLE ARE AWAKENING

Pinchot Says Special Interests Should be Driven From Party

NO FAITH IN CONGRESS

Deposed Chief Forester Believed to Have Represented Roosevelt in St. Paul Speech.

St. Paul, Minn., June 13.—Gifford Pinchot, ably seconded by James R. Garfield, pitched into the enemies of conservation, threw a few hot shots at the administration; wiped up the floor with the Demon "Special Interest," and mauled congressmen and lawmakers, who, elected by the people, serve only the trusts, at the banquet of the St. Paul Roosevelt Club here Saturday night.

The set address of the evening was that by Mr. Pinchot, who spoke as "Our National Resources and How to Conserve Them." He said in part:

"Because the special interests are in politics, we as a nation have lost faith in congress. This is a serious statement to make, but it is true. It does not apply, of course, to the men who really represent their constituents, and who are making so fine a fight for the conservation of self-government. As soon as these men have won their battle and consolidated their victory, confidence in congress will return."

"But in the meantime the people of the United States believe that, as a whole, the senate and the house no longer represent the voters by whom they were elected, but the special interests by whom they are controlled. They believe so because they have so often seen congress reject what the people desire, and do instead what the interests demand. And of this there could be no better illustration than the tariff."

"The tariff, under the policy of protection, was originally a means to raise the rate of wages. It has been made a tool to increase the cost of living. The wool schedule, professing to protect the wool grower, is found to result in sacrificing the grower and consumer alike to one of the most rapacious of trusts."

"This loss of confidence in congress is a matter of deep concern to every thinking American. It has not come quickly or without good reason. Every man who knows congress well knows the names of senators and members who betray the people they were elected to represent, and knows the names of the masters whom they obey. A representative of the people who wears the collar of the special interests has touched bottom. It can sink no further."

"Who is to blame because representatives of the people are so commonly led to betray their trust? We all are—we who have not taken the trouble to resent and put an end to the knavery we knew was going on. The brand of politics served out to us by professional politicians has long been composed largely of not meals for the interests and hot air for the people, and we have all known it."

"Political platforms are not sincere statements of what the leaders of a party believe, but rather forms of words which those leaders think they can get others to believe they believe. The realities of the regular political game lie at present far beneath the surface; many of the issues advanced are more empty sound, while the issues really at stake must be sought deep down in the politics of business—in politics for revenue only. All this the people realize as they never did before, and what is more, they are ready to act on their knowledge."

"Some of the men who are responsible for the union of business and politics may be profoundly dishonest, but more of them are not. They were trained in a wrong school and they cannot forget their training. Clay hands by immobility—men's minds by standing pat. Both (Continued on page 4, 2d col.)

PAN HANDLE TRAIN STRUCK AGED RESIDENT

Was Walking on Track When Accident Occurred—Arm Crushed, Necessitating Amputation.

Reuben Brunner, an old and highly respected citizen of the East 2nd, living on North Wing street, was the victim of a frightful accident at an early hour Monday morning. He was walking on the double tracks and attempted to cross the tracks just after a freight train had passed. He stepped almost directly in front of the engine of the first section of the Panhandle passenger train No. 21, which struck him on the right arm, badly crushing it at the elbow, and hurled him some distance. Criss Bros. & Jones' ambulance was rushed to the scene and took the injured man to the City Hospital where Dr. H. J. Davis attended to his injuries. The arm was found to be so badly crushed that amputation just above the elbow was necessary. He rallied nicely after the operation and is resting quite comfortably at this writing. No serious results are anticipated. Mr. Brunner is a married man and has several grown children.

Occasionally a thought strikes a man so forcibly that he never recovers from it.

Many a young fellow who thinks he is awfully smart would be smarter if he knew less.

Heart and Home Talks by Barbara Boyd

The Woman Who Is a Joy.

One kind of woman there is who is a joy in the home, in business, wherever there is anything to which she lays her hands. It is a woman who is thorough. Thoroughness is such a rare quality, nowadays, that when one finds a person who is thorough, one feels this person ought to be put in a glass case and exhibited as wondrously precious and almost extinct. The objection to this course of procedure is that so much work and so many places are waiting for the thorough person that he can't be wasted in being exhibited. The man or woman who wants to be sure of holding down a job, of being in demand, can cultivate few surer qualifications than thoroughness.

Many young people, particularly when they first start in business, just about half do things. What is the result? The work has to be done over. They might just as well do nothing. A little stock girl upon her first morning in a new position was told to brush off the women's raincoats. She took the whisk broom, gave the coats a "swipe," so to speak, across the shoulders, banged them a few times on the skirt part, and announced she had finished. Of course such work is worthless. A girl when she performs a task should do it in such a way that her busy manager will know without looking at it that it is thoroughly done, down to the smallest details. In these days of rush and pressure in business, the hurried head wants those under him who will work so trustworthily that their work will require neither examination nor correction. What joy it is to find such a worker!

A busy house-mistress had a man to paint a fence. She gave him careful instructions as to how it was to be done. When he finished, he assured her he had been most careful to carry out her directions. She examined results. Here, a strand of wire had been missed; there, quite a stretch where vines had over-run the fence. So far as practical requisites were concerned, the work was worthless. The entire fence had to be gone over to correct the lack of thoroughness.

Nearly every one has had the same experience. Office boys and office girls half do their work. Clerks neglect this and that. Maids "slack" things, as the housewife puts it. Everywhere is this lack of thoroughness. It is more honorable for the one who is not thorough not to undertake to do the work, for what they do perform is wasted.

Thoroughness is a winning card in the business world today. Children should be trained to be thorough, if parents wish their business careers to be a success. Boys and girls, and men and women, who are not thorough should take themselves in hand, if they want to insure success. It means money, for the thorough man or woman is hailed with joy wherever he or she goes.

SENIORS HONOR THE MEMORY OF DR. SHEPARDSON

Grave Strewn With Beautiful Flowers Sunday Morning—News of the Classic Village of Granville.

Granville, June 13.—Sunday morning, at 8:30 o'clock the members of the Senior class, wearing caps and gowns, and a few teachers, marched to the Maple Grove cemetery and there decorated the grave of Dr. Shepardson with beautiful flowers. Miss Clara Davis gave a very beautiful talk on the life and influence of Dr. Shepardson whose memory is dear to all who knew him. The first two seniors in the procession carried flowers, and through the line extended a rope of green smilax. At the grave the sweet hymn, "My Jesus, I Love Thee," was sung. The ceremony was a very impressive one. Mrs. E. S. Shepardson of Boston and Dr. George Shepardson of the University of Minnesota, were present.

For the child who has crept unwillingly to school since last September, vacation days are now at hand. Its parents, who are but children of a larger growth, envy them, for whenever it is possible, as Burns put it: "We frisk away Like schoolboys at the expected warning."

To joy and play. The child who does not know how to play, the busy man or woman who does not seek a vacation from duty, these are abnormal natures, and there is nothing at all laudable in their persistent devotion to work. In the case of a man of affairs, an indefatigable energy that refuses recreation will be found upon ultimate analysis to have as its root no more praiseworthy motive than the lust for wealth or political power. Such a man is deserving of the compassion of sensible folk who love nigher things and know the value of occasional rest and play. It is delightful to hear the childish voices chant the joys of "school days" or "reading, writing, arithmetic," taught by the rule of the "hickory stick" but all know very well that what the little hypocrites are enjoying is the lilt of the song and not its meaning. The patient and weary teachers, who have taught them to sing it know this and are just as expert of the end of the school and the beginning of vacation days.

Mrs. W. E. Wickender, '68, with her little daughter, Elizabeth, of Boston, Mass., has been visiting her sister, Miss Alice Lamb of the Junior class. Mr. Wickender, who is also an alumnus of the class of '65, is teaching electrical engineering in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Among those who are here to attend the commencement of Denison University, Mr. and Mrs. Theobald, parents of Miss Sue Theobald, who is a member of the Senior class.

Misses N. E. and Florence Parish, daughters of Dr. W. H. Parish, a former prominent citizen of Newark, are the guests of Granville friends. Miss Florence formerly attended school at Denison.

Miss Leila Holcomb, a former popular Denison student, whose home is in Corning, O., is here for commencement.

Mrs. Walker of Ashtabula, is here to attend the commencement exercises of Denison University, her son being a member of the graduating class.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Coalter of Denison, spent Sunday in Granville.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snucker of Newark were in the village Sunday.

Mrs. Shuman of Covington, O., came here to attend the exercises incident to the Denison commencement. Her daughter, Miss Dee Shuman, being one of the graduates.

Thomas and Alfred Mast of Columbus spent Sunday with friends in the village.

A number of Granville girls and others were most charmingly entertained Saturday afternoon by Miss Annette Besuden, at her home on Hudson avenue, Newark. Those present were Misses Agnes Walsh of Dayton, Mary Ferguson, Louise Ferguson, Margaret McKibbin, Marian Rose, Margaret Kirkpatrick of Springfield, Alma Polk of New Vienna, Anne Davis and Corinne Miller of Newark, and Miss Bishop of Austin, Texas.

Miss Dora Lisle entertained most charmingly Tuesday noon at the home of her mother, on West Broadway, a few girls at luncheon, in honor of Miss Bishop of Austin, Texas, who is the guest of Mrs. A. H. Pierson of Newark. The guests were Miss Bishop and the Misses Florence and Nellie Parish of Carnegie, Pa., Mary Ferguson and Agnes Walsh of Dayton.

Mrs. E. S. Shepardson of Boston, arrived here Saturday morning for commencement week. On her arrival here she was met at the car by a large number of Shepardson girls, who escorted her to the home of Mrs. Burton Case, whose guest she is. Miss Shepardson is always assured of a warm welcome whenever she visits Granville, as all our people have a warm place in their hearts for her.

Mrs. William Stahl and daughter Winifred of Tulsa, Oklahoma, have arrived here to make an extended stay with Mrs. Stahl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thornton.

Miss Alma Polk, a charming young woman of New Vienna, is here for commencement week and is visiting the Kappa Phi girls. Miss Polk was a former popular student of Denison.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter of Adrian, Mich., are here for Denison commencement. Their daughter, Miss Marie, is a graduate.

Ernest Field, D. T. '05, is visiting old friends in the village. While attending school here Mr. Field made many friends, who are glad to welcome him back. He is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity, and at present is located in Indianapolis, Ind., where he is making good.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denning and little daughter, Mary Frances are visiting in New Philadelphia, O., the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lewis.

Mr. Calhoun of Canton, O., is visiting her son, Mr. Austin Calhoun, a Sophomore at Denison.

Mrs. Ford of Cleveland, O., is the guest of her daughter, Miss Elizabeth, who is a graduate of Denison.

Miss Belle Newton of Bowling Green, O., is the guest of Miss Mary Ferguson during commencement week.

Miss Adler of Canton, O., is the guest of her sister, Miss Ruth Adler, a Freshman at Denison.

One of the most enjoyable events thus far during commencement week, was the annual breakfast given by the members of the Chi Psi Delta sorority at their chapter house Monday morning.

Humiliating Apology.

"Poor Taft!" Such is the exclamation that spontaneously springs to the lips of the American people from day to day. Why? Simply because of his mistakes. There is not a morning when the ordinary man rubbing his eyes, doesn't say to himself: "Wonder what Taft's latest break is? Why does he retain Ballinger? Why the impossible Wicker-Sham? Why did he send Wade Hampton Ellis to Ohio to save the party? What need have we of Ellis? Is it not about time that we hark back to the days when Ohioans ruled themselves instead of being dictated to from Washington?" These and kindred questions are being hurled at the gentleman who with all his vastness, occupies White House furniture.

The pathos of the indictment against Mr. Taft, solemnly uttered and issued by Republican prints is that, despite his blunders, he is honest! Far be it from the Advocate to doubt or to cast the reflection of a doubt upon Mr. Taft's honesty! The weakest kings in all history were honest. The most hopelessly heinous of all the rulers of the world have failed simply because they were negatively and not positively honest.

It takes a positive man to be an efficient executive. Washington was positive and so was Jefferson. Jackson overcame all opposition by being positive. His mistakes have faded before the one great central fact that he had honest convictions and dared to enforce them.

The chief executive of any nation or state whose sole virtue is negative honesty is a most pitiable and pathetic figure. The admission of President Taft's dearest friends that he is "honest but weak" is his deepest indictment for honesty, as a rule, means courage and Mr. Taft's courage is a negligible quantity. To be eternally apologized for by one's friends is an indelible disgrace. The man who tolerates such a proposition is a weakling. More pity is a poor asset for a President of this great Republic.

There is perhaps not a citizen of this Republic who does not wish Mr. Taft well in health and length of years. Should there be an exception the Advocate would be the first to invoke upon the exception the direst of curses and the extremest of penalties. The fact remains, however, that the pathos and the tragedy of the Taft career are best expressed in the words of his closest friends, "Weak but honest!" The vital question is: "Can a good chief executive be both weak and honest?"

THOUSANDS OF THEM.

There are just thousands of Republican voters in Ohio who don't care how much a Democratic legislature might contend over the election of a senator because of the supreme satisfaction they would feel in being rid of Dick, Daugherty, Herrick, Brother Charles or any other "undesirable" mentioned for the senatorship in case a Republican legislature is elected. Anybody a Democratic legislature might choose would be more acceptable than any of these.

There would be great joy over the elimination of Dick in a more worthy Republican were likely to succeed him, but of this the disgusted Republican voters of Ohio neither see nor feel any hope.

The tariff-mongers are rejoicing over the large increase of dutiable imports since the Payne-Aldrich act went into operation. As a very great proportion of these dutiable imports consists of foodstuffs, clothing fabrics and raw materials of American industry, those who pay duties see no cause for rejoicing over them.

lose the power to take new impressions. Many of the old style political leaders regard the political truths which alone insure the progress of the nation and will hereafter completely dominate it, as the mere meaningless babble of political infants. They have grown old in the belief that money has the right to rule, and they can never understand the point of view of the men who recognize in the corrupt political activity of a railroad or a trust a most dangerous kind of treason to government by the people.

When party leaders go wrong, it requires high sense of public duty, true courage and strong belief in the people for a man in politics to take his future in his hand and stand against them.

"The black shadow of party regularity, the supreme test in party affairs has passed from the public mind. It is a great deliverance. The man in the street no longer asks about a measure or a policy merely whether it is good. Republican or good Democratic doctrine. Now he asks whether it is honest and means what he says, whether it will promote the public interest, weaken special privilege and help to give every man a fair chance. If it will, it is good, no matter who proposes it. If it will not, it is bad, no matter who defends it.

"It is a greater thing to be a good citizen than to be a good Republican or a good Democrat.

"The protest against politics for revenue only is as strong in one party as in the other, for the servants of the interests are plentiful in both. In that respect there is little to choose between them.

"Differences of purpose and belief between political parties today are vastly less than the differences within the parties. The great gulf of division which strikes across our whole people pays little heed to fading party lines, or to any distinction in name only. The vital separation is between the partisans of government by money for profit and the believers in government by men for human welfare.

"When political parties come to be badly led, when their leaders touch with the people when their object ceases to be everybody's profit, it is time to change the leaders. One of the most significant facts of the time is that the professional politicians appear to be wholly unaware of the great moral change which has come over political thinking in the last decade. They fail to see that the political dogmas, the political slogans and the political methods of the past generation have lost their power, and that our people have come at last to judge of politics by the eternal rules of right and wrong.

"A new life is stirring among the dry bones of formal platforms and artificial issues. Morality has broken in to politics. Political leaders, trusted and trusted, find it harder and harder to conceal their actual character. The brass-bound collar of privilege has become plain upon their necks for all men to see. They are known for what they are, and their time is short. But when they come to be retired it will be of little use to us to replace an unfaithful public servant who wears the collar by another public servant with the same collar around his neck. Above all what we need in every office is free men representing a free people.

"The motto in every primary—in every election—should be this: No watch dogs of no interests need apply.

"The old order, standing pat, in dull misunderstanding of the great forward sweep of a nation determined on honesty and publicity in public affairs, is already wearing thin the progressive order. The demand of the people for political progress will not be denied. Does any man, not blinded by personal interest or by the dust of political dry rot, suppose that the bulk of our people are anything else but progressive? If such there be, let him ask the young men, in whose minds the politics of tomorrow first see their light.

"The people of the United States demand a new deal and a square deal. They have grasped the fact that the special interests are now in control of public affairs. They have decided once more to take control of their own business. For the last ten years the determination to do so has been swelling like a river. The result that the special interests shall go out of politics or out of business—one or the other. And the choice will lie with the interests themselves. If they resist, both the interests and the people will suffer. If wise, they accept the inevitable, the readjustment will not be hard. It will do their business no manner of harm to make it conform to the general welfare. But one way or the other, conform it must.

"The overshadowing question before the American people today is this: Shall the nation govern itself or shall the interests run the country?"

CONSERVATION MEASURE PUSHED

Land Withdrawal Bill Discussed in Senate.

WESTERN MEMBERS OPPOSE.

Charge Policy Has Caused Exodus to Canada—Bill Probably Will Pass. Reward of Parr, Who Exposed Sugar Frauds—Bill Against Cotton Gambling Sidetracked.

Washington, June 13.—The land withdrawal bill, which was taken up by the senate after the passage of the railroad bill, has drawn the fire of a number of western senators, who charge that previous withdrawals of public lands from homestead entry and the difficult conditions thrown about these lands are responsible for much of the exodus of northwestern farmers into Canada. Most of the western attacks on the conservation policy have arisen from similar causes or at least have alleged similar facts. Colorado representatives were especially bitter against the large forest reserves in that state, including lands on which trees never did grow and they said, never could grow. Despite this opposition there is little doubt that the land withdrawal bill will pass, although it is the only one of the conservation measures, with the possible exception of the reclamation bond bill, that stands any show of getting through at this session.

Lorimer Charges Filed.

The filing of formal charges against Senator Lorimer's election which was made recently by Lorimer's colleague, Senator Cullom, places the case regularly before the senate. The charges were referred to the committee on privileges and elections, which already has charge of the resolution ordering an investigation into the Lorimer case. Owing to the lateness of the session little is likely to be done before adjournment. The probable course is the appointment of a subcommittee that will sit both in Washington and Illinois during the recess.

Session in the Short Rows.

The rushing through the house of the postal savings bank bill cleans up practically all of the administration measures that will be considered by the present session, with the exception of the statehood bill. Senator Beveridge has given notice that he will call this up as soon as the land withdrawal bill is out of the way in the senate. Just how long a time the senate will spend on the remaining appropriation bills it is impossible to tell. There is almost certain to be a fight, with considerable oratorical fireworks, on the item appropriating $250,000 for the tariff board. Yet indications multiply that the two houses are getting ready to fix a date for adjournment and that this date will fall before July 4.

One Reformer Rewarded.

Richard Parr, the man who laid bare the sugar trust frauds at the New York custom house, is to have his reward. As between $30,000 and $4,000,000 was recovered through Parr's agency, he is entitled under the law to claim as much as 50 per cent for his share, which would amount to more than $1,500,000. There is no probability that he will make such a claim or that it would be allowed if he did. If he gets only 25 per cent he will still have a neat sum, more than any other reformer or graft hunter of our acquaintance has made out of his efforts in behalf of the public.

Anti-option Bill Sidetracked.

The check given to the Scott anti-option bill in the house probably means the end of that measure so far as this session is concerned. The Scott bill would regulate the operation of cotton exchanges by restricting dealings in futures where actual transfers of the commodities were not made.

Surface of Coal Lands Open For Entry.

The house bill authorizing the disposal of the surface of coal lands for agricultural purposes has been passed by the senate. The bill will permit the settlement and cultivation of vast areas of public lands which, while they have been withdrawn on account of their coal deposits, are still valuable for agriculture. Under the terms of the bill the government does not part with its control of the coal.

Riggs House Doomed.

The old Riggs House, which has been historic for as long as most of those now living remember, is to be removed and an eight story office building is to be erected on the site. One by one the famous old hotels of the capital are being modernized or removed. The National and Ebbitt still stand, but without their former glory. The Wornley is gone, and the Willard and Raleigh have been overhauled and remodeled. The Riggs is the home of many statesmen and is a favorite stopping place for newspaper men. It will be razed a year from June.

Democrats Like Taft.

One of the anomalies of Washington life is that President Taft is personally most popular with a large number of Democratic senators and representatives, among them Senators Bailey and Bacon. "He's the salt of the earth, and I hate to differ from him politically," remarked a Democratic visitor.

The Law of Retribution

Sowing and Reaping—Visiting Sins of Parents Upon Their Children—Justice of the Divine Arrangement—Grace So Much More Abounds—Else Were Your Children Unboly.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 12.—Pastor Russell of the Brooklyn Tabernacle preached here today to large and attentive audiences. We report his discourse from the text, "I, the Lord, thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquities of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me and keep my commandments." (Deuteronomy v, 9, 10). A report of the discourse follows:—

No one of experience can question the fact that our text is corroborated by all our experiences in life. However unjust some may claim it to be that the children should inherit the weaknesses resulting from parental dissipations and violations of the Divine law, the fact remains that however atheism may question the existence of a God or indelibly doubt the inspiration of his Word, no one can question the two facts of this text, (1), that sin and its penalty can be inherited; and (2) the fact that God is merciful to such as renounce sin and turn to him and seek to walk according to his direction. However these blessings upon evil doers and their children and these blessings upon well doers and their posterity may be termed natural laws and laws of heredity, it does not alter the fact, because the Almighty is the one who made these laws of heredity.

Under the delusion handed down to us from the "dark ages"—that God had condemned to eternal torment all the children of Adam because of his sin—we are all inclined properly enough to feel rebellious against any such matter and to assert that from the standpoint of human reasoning it would be entirely unjust to torture the posterity of Adam eternally for his transgression—"original sin." But as we get the eyes of our understanding opened to see what is the real penalty for sin, that it is death, extinction, and that our perfect parents, fully informed respecting the divine will, were culpable, worthy of death, and when we learn further that whatever is enjoyed by Adam's posterity in the way of life, however disadvantageous the conditions, is so much of divine leniency and mercy and comes so much short of being the full penalty, death, extinction—then we begin to see that life under any conditions and disadvantages is still a boon, better than extinction.

In Wrath Have Mercy, Lord.
Recognizing the wrath of God as manifested in the death penalty (not in an eternity of torture) we can see that the Scriptures everywhere declare that the wrath of God is resting upon our race; that every member of it is subject to this very penalty which came upon father Adam and has been entailed upon all of his posterity.

The Almighty Creator did not wait for us to cry out for his pity and compassion, but from the very beginning, foreknowing our fall into sin, he had the plan arranged for our redemption and ultimate recovery from this condition of wrath, curse, death.
We are informed that our Lord Jesus was the Lamb of God slain from the foundation of the world—in the Divine purpose and arrangement—though only now being made manifest to the Church and shortly to the world. Thus viewed there has been no injustice practised against our race in permitting the children to share with their father Adam in his penalty. Rather they had esteemed it and do esteem it better than the sentence itself, and furthermore in the Lord's providences the world's present experiences in the fall and later on in the recovery from the fall in the hands of the great Redeemer during the Millennial Age, is to prove a lesson, a schooling, in the exceeding sinfulness of sin, which the race as a whole will never forget and out of which many (now the Church, later on the world) will draw lessons of wisdom and grace.

Looking still more deeply into the Divine Plan as it is revealed in the Lord's Word for those who are his (Psalm xiv, 14), we find a particular reason why. It was not only advisable but necessary that this law of heredity should operate in our race, even though it brought in its train a terrible list of experiences to our race. The reason for this is based upon one element of the Divine character—Justice—the very element which at one time we supposed was violated by this law of heredity. As our eyes open to the teaching of the Scriptures we perceive that if God had not permitted his law of heredity to operate, but had permitted each individual of the race to come forth to perfection and to stand an individual trial such as father Adam was subject to, it would doubtless have meant that at least one-half of the race, possibly more, would have deliberately chosen a course of sin as father Adam chose it. To expect more than one-half to be obedient would be unreasonable. Rather, from what we see about us in the experiences of life, we would have been liable to conclude that only a very small majority, perhaps one-tenth, would have been obedient to God, while the remaining nine-tenths would have been disobedient.

Some might ask, Would not even that have been better than the Divine arrangement as we see it operating now, that the whole race should suffer for one man's disobedience? We answer, No! Not according to the testimony of the Scriptures. The Bible shows us that while this law of hereditary sin has worked such terrible havoc in Adam and his race for now 6,000 years—while 20,000,000,000 have been born in sin and sorrow and pain and after a few years of trouble have died in sorrow and pain, nevertheless—God's due time all of these shall have more favorable opportunities of knowing of God's true character and of a turning to a full character development.
In his likeness during the Millennial Age. This means that probably mortals will gain eternal life and blessing under the divine arrangement as we have it than we could reasonably expect would have been saved had the Lord not provided this law of heredity and condemnation of all, but on the contrary had permitted each to be born in perfection and to stand his trial as between loyalty to God with the reward of eternal life or disobedience punished with death. But we shall see that it means much more than this.

Condemned in One—Redeemed by One.

A great economic law is connected with the divine arrangement: The condemnation of a race in one man's loins because of his transgression made possible the divine arrangement that a Second Man should pay the penalty for the first and redeem both him and all who were in him at the time of his condemnation. This is at once a demonstration of Divine Wisdom and of Divine Justice. Suppose, for instance, that the law of heredity had not prevailed, had not been instituted by our Lord, but that each individual had come forth perfect and had been personally placed on trial and been personally condemned to death. Would it not have required an individual savior for each one condemned under such an arrangement?
Surely it would. Hence, had one-half of the race proven themselves sinners and been personally condemned it would either have been necessary to avoid redemption altogether or to redeem the swart half of the race, by giving a life for a life—a perfect be-ing's sacrifice for or instead of each imperfect life. Estimating the total number of our race at 20,000,000,000, Justice would have been obliged to require 10,000,000,000 of perfect beings to be offered as the ransom price for the 10,000,000,000 of sinners.
Under the very best estimate that we can possibly make, this would have required the death of all the perfect ones of the race as redeemers for all the imperfect members of the race, and what a havoc that would have implied—just with as many dying as under present conditions, namely, one-half as sinners and the other half as redeemers, ransoms. Besides, we perceive that it would not have been just on the part of the Almighty to compel the righteous ones to suffer for the unrighteous as their redeemers, hence there would have been no assurance even then that any but a fraction of the sinner race would have been redeemed. On the contrary, how wise, conservative and economical was the Divine arrangement that by one man's disobedience under the laws of heredity the many would be born sinners and sharers in his penalty, death, and that then in due time one Savior, one perfect one, the "man Christ Jesus," might redeem Adam and, redeeming him, redeem all of his race from the death sentence, the curse, the wrath of God, and as a result of the redemption obtain the right, the authority, the power during his Millennial Kingdom and in association with his glorified Church of the Gospel Age, to bless all the families of the earth and to uplift as many as would be willing out of all their ignorance, weakness and sinful and dying conditions to all that was lost in Adam.

We have seen that in harmony with the Divine law it would not have been just for the Heavenly Father to obliterate the righteous to die for sinners and that hence the redemption of the sinners would have been problematically—very doubtful. But on the contrary the Heavenly Father well knew in advance the loyalty of his First-Begotten, his only Begotten, who is declared to have been the "beginning of the creation of God" (Revelation iii, 14). He knew not only of Jesus' loyalty but that his experiences with him in glory would every way qualify our Lord for the tests and the sacrifices necessary for the redemption of the race with his own precious blood. The Scriptures assure us furthermore that the Father set before him some certain joys, certain blessings, certain promises, in connection with this work of man's redemption; as we read, "Who for the joy set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is now set down on the right hand of the majesty on high" (Hebrews xii, 2).

Retributive Joys and Rewards.
We are to remember, too, that the Scriptures distinctly teach that the condition of the affairs of our world—sin, retributive punishment, the redemption through Jesus, the call of the Church and our sufferings with their Redeemer and the promises of future blessing and glory both for the Church and for the world—are subjects in which the angels of God are interested. As the Apostle Peter says, "Of which salvation the prophets have enquired and searched diligently." Searching what of what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow. . . .

Which things the angels desire to look into" (1 Peter, i, 10-12). They wondered when all the sufferings of Jesus and the Church would be completed and when the glory time would come and recovery from sin and death conditions; when God's purpose would thus ripen and bear fruit in the recovery of those who fell from his favor in Adam's disobedience but were redeemed by the precious blood.

The great lesson of what constitutes disobedience, and how serious a sin it is, and what it would lead to if allowed to take its course, was illustrated in man's experiences, and all the hosts of angels looked on with amazement, no doubt. God's Justice was fully demonstrated in the infliction of the death penalty and the permission of its inroads upon the mental, moral and physical perfection of his creatures, bringing many of the race down almost to brutality. God's Love was manifested in the gift of his Son, in the arrangement of his plan by which for the joy set before him, Jesus might become Adam's Redeemer, and the Bridegroom of the Elect Church and ultimately the great King of glory who, during the Millennial Age, is to restore, revive and bless and test Adam and all his race.

Christ and the Church Crucially Tested

We cannot wonder if all the holy angels looked on in amazement as they beheld the Only Begotten Son of God leave the "glory which he had before the world was" and humble himself to take human nature—to be born a man that he might redeem Adam and his race. It must have seemed wonderful to them not only that the Heavenly Father would arrange such a plan but wonderful also that the glorious "Only Begotten," "First-Born," should be the one to whom the proposition would be made to show his faith and love for the Father, to do his will to the extent of such a sacrifice, not only of glory, but, eventually, of life. They had yet to see a further operation of the divine law of retribution operating in Jesus for his blessing and honor.
So intent were they in looking at the humiliation of the Only Begotten, and then at his death, that apparently they did not so carefully note the fact that the Heavenly Father had set before him great joys, great blessings, great exaltation, which he should finish his work.

Already the Only Begotten was next to the Father in glory and dignity, honor and power; what more of divine honor could be bestowed upon even the First-Born of every creature?
The Only Begotten himself appears not to have thought particularly of the promised glory: The joy set before him, however, seems to have been that he would do the Father's will and thus demonstrate his absolute loyalty even unto death. While, no doubt, it was a joy to the Lord to be the Father's Agent in the rescue of Adam and his race from sin and death, nevertheless we believe that his chief joy in connection with the matter was that thus he might demonstrate to the Father his absolute love by his submission and obedience.
Our Lord's own words were, "Father, glorify thou me with the glory which I had with thee before the world was" (John xiii, 5). He knew of the Father's proposed exaltation of him as a reward, but he did not mention this; he would merely ask of the Father that when he had accomplished the Divine purpose he might have back the same honor and position and divine favor which he had laid aside when he humbled himself to become Adam's redemption price, the world's Savior. Such modesty and loyalty are difficult for us to comprehend because of our fallen, imperfect condition.

But the Apostle explains to us, speaking under the power of inspiration, that because of our Lord's obedience in leaving the glory and becoming a man and dying for our sins, therefore "God hath highly exalted him and given him a name above every name, that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven and things in earth" (Philippians ii, 9, 10). Elsewhere in the Scriptures we are assured that our Lord became partaker of the Divine nature in his resurrection, that thus he attained a reward far above anything that could have been thought, not only above angels, but also far above his own prehu-man condition. To thus rewarding the faithful the Lord is carrying out the spirit of our text—he has been exalting what he otherwise taught in the Scriptures—"whoever man soweth eth that shall also reap" (Galatians vi, 7). Adam sowed disobedience and his race reaped a terrible harvest of degradation, suffering and death. The Only Begotten sowed obedience, as prophetically expressed of him at the time of his baptism, "I delight to do thy will, O my God; thy law is written in my heart" (Psalm xl, 8).
Laying down his life in harmony with the Divine purpose was his sowing and the reaping at the resurrection was glory, honor and immortality the divine nature. How richly Jehovah rewards every demonstration of loyalty to himself and the principles of righteousness.

SERMON TO SENIORS BY DR. E. W. HUNT

Granville, June 12.—Commencement week for Old Denison was fittingly opened Sunday morning with the annual baccalaureate services for the senior class in the Baptist church.
The services were largely attended, the members of the large class occupying the seats that had been reserved for them in the front of the center portion of the church.

The sermon was preached by President Dr. E. W. Hunt and was particularly well adapted to the outgoing class to whom it was addressed. But its truth was brought home to every heart with its forceful exposition. The text was taken from Paul's epistle to the Philippians, third chapter, 13th verse "But this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before." Dr. Hunt began the development of the text by explaining Paul's attitude as set forth in these his own words. Paul does not relit the memory for a goal to stop to note things behind or of the way way. What are these things behind that cloud the issue?

First, our losses. Dr. Hunt first showed how Paul, on becoming a Christian, gave up much that had been dear to him before—pride in ancestry and social position, and how in his changed point of view, these things which had seemed of great importance before, seemed mere trifles.
Then a more general application of his truth was made and showed how a character is and to be strengthened by the losses it has sustained. In bearing great losses we should not forget all his benefits. We make a mistake in brooding over our losses.
Let the man fill his soul with some other's trouble and his own soul will enlarge. Men's progress is hindered if he dwells upon past losses. Let him look ahead.

The second thing that is liable to be a stumbling block in the race is our success. No matter if we have passed some points on the way, we must remember that there are others to follow. Don't rest too much over successes. Keep the eyes on the goal.

The third thing that stands in the way of our winning the race is our sins. Paul doesn't make much of these he wants his sin to sink out of sight and his attitude seems to be the most truly religious one. Sin destroy confidence, kills courage, clouds hope but we may forget our sin if God does and he forgets when he turns conscientiously away from them.
Do not devote so much attention to life's details. The note of victories through ever line of Paul's words, although they were written from a Roman prison stand out but encouraging surroundings. The interesting things are not all in the past; the best is yet to be. Don't stop to see how straight a path you've made how many times you've wavered and stumbled, or on the other hand how many paths you've passed—keep steadily on with the goal in view.

Daddy's Bedtime Story
Stories About Lincoln

GIVING BACK TO HER THE MONEY

"CHILDREN," said daddy when Jack and Evelyn asked for their usual bedtime story, "I think I will tell you this evening some stories about Abraham Lincoln, of whom you heard so much a short time ago. Every American child ought to learn as much as possible about Lincoln, for he was one of our greatest and best men.

"When Lincoln was a young man he worked in a store as a clerk. Whenever he had any spare time during the day he used to read and study, and he did the same until late at night, so that he was often very tired when evening came and it was time to close the store in which he worked. One night after he counted up the money that he had taken in during the day he found that he had a few cents too much. He remembered that in making change for his last customer, an old woman who had come in just before closing time, he had not given her enough. The old woman lived quite a long way from the town, and Lincoln was tired after his hard day's work, but that did not keep him from walking to her house and giving back to her the money that was due to her. Of course the old woman told the story to her neighbors, and that is how Lincoln came to be known as 'Honest Abe.'

"Another time when he came to the store in the morning he found on the scales a weight which he remembered using just before closing time in weighing out some tea for a customer. It was not the weight he had intended to use, but was a few ounces short, so that the customer had received less tea than she had paid for. So Lincoln wrapped up the amount of tea that the customer should have received and sent it to her in order to keep from cheating her."

"But, daddy, would that have been cheating?" asked Jack. "He did not intend to give her less tea."

"Of course he had not intended to cheat her," said daddy, "but she did not get all the tea she had paid for."

"The people of the town in which Lincoln lived soon came to trust him and asked him many times when they had disputes to decide the matters. Once two men owned horses of which they were very proud, and each one thought that his horse could run faster than the other. So they decided to hold a race, but they were not sure whom they could get to act as judge. One wanted one man and the other wanted another until some one said: 'Why don't you get Abraham Lincoln to be the judge?' He is sure to decide fairly." So they asked Lincoln to be the judge. At first he would not, but they coaxed him, and after the race was run both said that he had decided honestly and fairly."

S.S.S. FOR SUMMER SKIN DISEASES

Smooth, healthy skins are a rarity in Summer. Most persons are annoyed with pimples, boils, rashes or eruptions, while others suffer more severely with Eczema, Acne, Trich, Salt Rheum, or some kindred skin disease. All skin affections come from humors and acids in the circulation. The blood as it circulates through the system, deposits these acids and humors in the sensitive membranous flesh which lies just beneath the outer skin or tissue covering the body. This acid matter causes inflammation and a discharge which breaks through the delicate cuticle, and skin diseases are the result. To cure any skin trouble the blood must be freed from all acids and humors, and for this purpose nothing equals S.S.S. This great blood purifier goes down into the circulation and completely removes every particle of impurity, enriches the blood and in this way permanently cures skin diseases. S. S. S. cures, because it purifies the blood and allows it to nourish, soothe, and soften the skin instead of irritating it with fiery acids and humors. Book on Skin Diseases and all medical advice free. W. A. Erman & Son Desire to Announce That They Are the Agents for Thompson's Barosma, the Money-Back Kidney and Liver Cure.

There are hundreds of people, young and old, right here in Newark, who are taking medicines for various ailments, who do not even suspect that the kidneys are to blame.

These sufferers do not know that in all probability their kidneys are all clogged up, are inflamed or congested, and are unable to properly filter the impurities from the blood. It is the kidneys that keep the blood pure, and if the kidneys are not in good condition, disease of other organs of the body will surely develop.

Thompson's Barosma will cure any disease of the kidneys, or W. A. Erman & Son will give you your money back.

Don't say, dear reader, that your kidneys are all right, for if you suffer from lame back or sides, from backache, dizziness, pains that come and go as quick as a flash, or if you have that "all-in-the-back-what-happens" feeling, then your kidneys are clogged up, and you need Thompson's Barosma to thoroughly cleanse, renovate and purify them.

If you are in ill-health now, and are not absolutely certain of the cure, get a 50 cent bottle of Thompson's Barosma at W. A. Erman & Son's today. It will tone up your kidneys, liver and bladder in a week.

It is the best investment you can make. It is worth a trial on our guaranteed plan. Ask for Thompson's Barosma. The dollar bottle contains more than twice as much as the fifty cent size.

KEITH VAUDEVILLE.
In order to give a new capacity of 100 seats, the management of the Auditorium theatre has decided to make all of the balcony seats 100, with the whole of the lower floor 200, with the box seats 300. This will give this popular theatre quite a lot more seats at the 10c price than heretofore, in order to accommodate the larger crowds that are coming to see the great shows that are being given at the Auditorium.

GOVERNOR HARMON ISSUES FLAG DAY PROCLAMATION

Governor Harmon issued a proclamation, Saturday, designating next Tuesday as flag day, and calling upon the people of the state to display the national emblem from their homes, places of business and on public buildings. The proclamation:

This is the one hundred and thirty-third year since patriotic hands fashioned the flag as the emblem of our republic.

It is fitting to annually commemorate that event, to recall its history through these years, and to renew the devotion which it should inspire in our national life.

Therefore, I, Judson Harmon, governor of Ohio, request that on the established day, Tuesday, June 14, 1914, the national flag be displayed on all public buildings, by our citizens on their homes, and that its history and the lessons it teaches may, as far as possible, be brought to the attention of the youth in our schools.

In witness whereof I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused the great seal of the state to be affixed, at Columbus, this 11th day of June, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and ten. JUDSON HARMON, Governor.

Love makes the world go round, provided there be enough men to go round.
